

It's Restaurant Week Every Day at The Twisted Tail

The Prix Fixe Menu Lives On It's A Great Deal!

Restaurant Week may be over in Philadelphia but The Twisted Tail, the city's only Bourbon House and Juke Joint, continues the tasty celebration by offering guests a four-course prix fixe menu for only $39. Chef Leo Forneas' menu features modern interpretations of classic Southern comfort food. Select an item from the charcoal grill, appetizer, entree, and dessert menus. The menu is seasonal and changes often. A dinner that would cost $50 or more when menu items are ordered individually can be enjoyed for a fixed price of $39. It's a phenomenal deal and it's available every day of the week.

The Twisted Tail is the perfect place to enjoy lunch, dinner, happy hour, or weekend brunch. In addition to the menu, the restaurant features an extensive list of American whiskeys, including bourbons, beer, wine, and cocktails. Owner George Reilly brings his love of blues, bourbon, and Southern hospitality to the restaurant. Chef Leo adds the perfect amount of simplicity, freshness, and consistency to each dish. The restaurant is located at 509 S. 2nd Street.
